

screen blocks

An easy to erect and attractive partition

Screenblocks are the perfect way to provide an attractive partition, without the closed-in feeling of a solid wall. The choice of two patterns adds further interest and variety to your garden.

Ideal for patio screens, balconies, walls and decorative surrounds. Screenblocks are fairfaced on both sides and provide a foil for shrubs, plants and flowers and a support for climbing plants and creepers.

Easy to erect on simple foundations Screenblocks fit neatly and easily together and require no maintenance.

rock faceblocks

gritty texture and rugged individuality

Rockface blocks are the easy and economical way to build feature walls, patio surrounds, steps and even barbecues that will brighten up your garden and provide extra areas of colour, interest and creative design.

Their attractive appearance, gritty texture and rugged individuality, have enhanced small and large gardens for many years. With the strength and durability to withstand all outside elements, Rockface blocks are made to last.

Their practical load bearing qualities and ease of laying, mean that walls can be built by the amateur and professional alike.
